Part B Notice to the client

Take notice that:

2. I no longer act for you in this case. I intend to provide the Court with the below email address and postal address for you. If you have safety concerns about disclosing that email address or postal address, you must tell me within seven days, otherwise this form will be filed with the Court and will be viewable by all other parties on the Commonwealth Courts Portal.

PO Box 33

SHORTLAND

State NSW

Postcode 2307

Phone 0412 846 712

Email stephencooke.c@gmail.com

3. I enclose a Notice of Address for Service for you to complete. You must file and serve this as soon as possible.

TAKE NOTE:

You must give notice to the Court of your contact address (address for service) in Australia within seven days after a change. Your address for service does not have to be your residential address. If you have safety concerns, you do not need to disclose your residential address, and can provide another address at which documents can be served on you. Your contact address can be the address of another lawyer who is acting for you. You must give an email address.

If you do not have an address for service and you do not provide one you may not receive documents about your case.

If you do not provide a new contact address (address for service) in Australia your last known residential address will be taken to be your contact address (address for service) and can be used by the Court or other parties to serve documents on you. You should also provide a current email address.

4. The next time this case is listed before the Court is on 15 October 2024 at 2pm for a mention before Judicial Registrar Furner.

TAKE NOTE: Rule 3.10(1A) provides that a Notice of Ceasing to Act cannot be filed less than 14 days before a Final Hearing without leave of the Court.
