An organisation can be good and still have few bad eggs but far more likely and potentially more dangerous are good but vulnerable people trying to discern what God has revealed to them but being misrepresented by the sin of man - a priest who is also a pedophile is a perfect example of this and to be clear, this is not at all what I believe is going on here but I feel I need to be careful of placing myself into a vulnerable situation be it church or otherwise until my divorce is finalised.

I "feel" that the Church has proceeded getting to know me having already condemned me as portrayed from Heathers narrative (please do not challenge this, just accept that there is no-way I can possibly get across to you months of personal experience in words to you)

I do not claim to be a prophet, but prophets "see" God in such a way that aligns with my own personal experiences of how I see God.

Please see attached "Advising the church my relationship with God.pdf" and "The Gentle Whisper of God.pdf" read again - note the dates, what I sent then see the email exchange below and additional click on the family picture of Sam below: "Sam, Prue & the girls" to view youtube videos of his daughter and her journey living with cystic fibrosis.

Understand that most people who have been through what I have been through would have committed suicide by now and I beleive Heather had hoped for this outcome on two occasions.

But God / Holy Spirit did come to me and changed my heart - has fortified my heart. I still feel love but it is not weak or vulnerable. It is at peace. It is different. I do not cry like I did months ago - I actually enjoy my time alone now to be with God!

Sam is a good man and so is everyone at the church but even so, I have felt the condemnation coming into this church at times which has been slowly coming around for me but I am still in a very vulnerable place until I am divorced. One could say that the children are being used as a carrot to draw a Mother cow into the slaughter (which is why I believe God changed my heart the way he did when he came to me). That all being said, I can still become frustrated when I feel I am not being heard. (that is not me casting blame unto you - there are many reasons that may have nothing to do with you at all why I may feel I am not being heard at times)

Lastly, please find my attached will - it needs work, much work but this is what I have atm.

Stephen

Hi Church 🙌

Some of you may have noticed that I have been very absent lately. On 28th November I went in for a planned surgery on my liver. This was supposed to be fairly straightforward and I should have been back on deck by mid-December. However, there have been a couple of complications and a few extra hospital visits. Things are not resolved yet (much to my frustration). We are very thankful for the way people have loved us during this time.

Please pray for:

- Prue who is doing an amazing job of holding down the fort
- The kids who are doing amazingly well but being farmed out left right and centre
- Pray for healing and recovery
- Pray that we all keep finding joy in God in the midst of all this

❤️ Sam, Prue & the girls

Sam Hilton is married to Prue and has four kids, Olivia, Audrey, Edie, and Nora. Sam loves to surf (he's not afraid to drop in on you), gelato with his kids, and is passionate about the Sydney Swans. Sam wears lots of hats on our staff team, from providing guidance to the various ministry departments across church, to overseeing the 'front door' experience where he helps people connect into the life of church, and coordinating our HBC City congregations. We also suspect that Sam may have had this latest pic digitally altered...

Christmas 2024 🎄

Christmas was a blast! So much fun. So much joy. So many new people. So many things to thank God for!

Praise God that he brought over 1000 people (man for the first time) along to our six Christmas Services. Pray that we'll see these faces again and that they'd be keen to join us in following Jesus at church!

It was great to see some of us enjoying brunch and lunch together after church in the City and at Garden Suburb. All Nations (Our international student ministry) also hung out for a Chrissy lunch - we assume this involved some KFC.

All this took place to fulfill what the Lord had said through the prophet: “The virgin will conceive and give birth to a son, and they will call him Immanuel” (which means “God with us”).

Matthew 1.22-23

Fresh Faces in 2025 🌤️

Here at church, we LOVE being part of training up the next generation of Gospel workers through the Ministry Training Strategy (MTS). Over the years we've been able to train dozens and dozens of men and women in ministry who are now serving across the country from Melbourne to Broome, and across the world, from Vanuatu to Kenya. What a privilege!

In December our new ministry apprentices began their training and work with us. Please look out for them and encourage them as they find their feet in their new roles. Pray God would grow them and send them out into the harvest.

If you'd like to know more about who is starting an MTS apprenticeship with us or would like to prayerfully or financially support an apprentice, head on over HERE.

Ride the WAVE

Those hot days have left us in no doubt that summer 24/25 is here, and that means WAVE!

Our youth program will be running out of our Garden Suburb site, and our kids 0 - year 5 + adults will continue to run at Lambrton High School.

Here's a few things we'd love you to do:

1. PRAY for WAVE
2. INVITE your friends/acquaintances/family/anyone.
3. REGISTER your kids early - Rego is open now!

Here are the lyrics of this Bruce Springsteen song and how I hear it;

[Verse 1]

She'll let you in her house: This is the house of God (her in this song is God)
If you come knockin' late at night: You can reach out and ask God for help anytime, he will always answer
She'll let you in her mouth: Word of God
If the words you say are right: Prayer
If you pay the price: Jesus sacrifice and acceptance of Lord and Savior
She'll let you deep inside: Where God would rather you not go like the Apple in the Garden of Eden - The perfect example of the entirety of space time itself
But there's a secret garden she hides; God keeps us from the Tree of Life so that we may not be made eternal in a broken state

[Verse 2]

She'll let you in her car: Car is the vehicle of our perceived free will
To go driving 'round: Explore the ups and downs of our perceived reality
She'll let you into the parts of herself That'll bring you down: sadness in the moment in the absence of more complete context (with the passage of time)
She'll let you in her heart If you got a hammer and a vise: If you work hard in life, you can have love
But into her secret garden, don't think twice; no explanation needed

[Bridge]

You've gone a million miles, How far'd you get?: in a vehicle like a care you can only travel so far, but the garden is not here, it's there
To that place where you can't remember. And you can't forget? Happiness that is yearned for which is ultimately fleeting in this reality aka Dad buying something from BestBuy only to return it later

[Verse 3]

She'll lead you down the path, There'll be tenderness in the air: walking with God
She'll let you come just far enough, So you know she's really there: why you and Angela are so frustrated discussing this. But this is how God is often reveals himself to us requiring a leap of faith
Then she'll look at you and smile, And her eyes'll say, She's got a secret garden
Where everything you want, Where everything you need: No more Best Buy purchases/returns
Will always stay, A million miles away: To ensure we reunite with God the Father for discernment and insight of experience of reality in the whole as it was originally intended, fully and complete, with guidance and love.

Quite nice song but it is God the Father. I wonder why the song says she!?

And surely Bestbuy is somewhere in the garden!?

I think it's a bit presumptuous to reduce God the Father to being a man or a woman. That being said, Jesus, as God incarnate, is indeed Man. The term "Father" in this context has more to do with how we, as humans, understand hierarchical systems—especially in terms of authority, care, and relationship—rather than attributing literal gender to God.

1. 1 Corinthians 11:3

"But I want you to realize that the head of every man is Christ, and the head of the woman is man, and the head of Christ is God."

This passage outlines a hierarchy: God the Father → Christ → Man → Woman. It emphasizes roles and relationships rather than value or worth.

The fall from "The Garden" is very similar to a divorce but with God. To be in the Garden is to be in communion and wholly dependant on God akin to a child in terms of dependence and discernment of peace and all.

And so yes, when this happens, BestBuy is no longer desired.

It's interesting and sad to see how broken in some ways my children are now due to having deal with parents in a fragmented/segmented reality.

God likely looks at humanity the same way.

Hi Steve,

The message below is confusing to me, and as you know, I am far from perfect. I make mistakes and am a sinner who swears regularly. I am not a prophet. If God, in His infinite wisdom, chooses to use me as His mouthpiece on occasion, I am deeply humbled. However, every communal prayer in my family and home begins with, "Jesus, please forgive us for our sins." Drawing comparisons to a prophet or to see the future is not from God; it may even be a form of blasphemy or an attempt by evil to mislead.

The heart of the Church is Christ, who guides us all, not someone who misleads or distracts. He and His church provide absolute clarity through the mind, body, and soul. How do you feel as a member of your church?

From a sinner's perspective: The first gift God gives us is our life. The second is our family. The decisions we make and the paths we choose from that point determine our life's destination. If we are unsatisfied with that destination, we can change it through seeking redemption in Christ and celebrating the liberation granted through His forgiveness.

Your enjoyment of life is guided by your free will to change your perception of this world through Christ. Never assume you have fully found Him, as this could lead to complacency.

The temple of God does not begin in the Church; it begins in your physical body, Christ's most sacred temple.

David.

This is a rather vulgar song about Bruce Springsteen's sexual conquest with a woman who sleeps around. It even has the connotation of oral sex taking place. In the song, he explains that she sleeps around (everyone enters her secret garden=vagina), but she refuses to commit emotionally to any man (unless he has a hammer to break through her heart). The 'million miles on her' comment refers to the all of the men she has slept with. It also notes that she is no longer the person she was because of the number of partners she has had.

I am very happy you are trying to be more connected with your faith. This is important! However, I don't believe this filth is the musical piece that the Lord would choose to represent the 'Word of God'. Your interpretation is lovely (and certainly an improvement on the actual song), but I do not believe this was God speaking directly to you. I encourage you to speak to your therapist as these appear to be obsessive thoughts.

Also, Dad and I have no trouble with our faith. Thank you for your concern.

Lots of love,
Angela.

The secret garden means to be in communion, be it with God or Woman or man and Jesus speaks that we need be like little children in such a relationship with God. All other things can be forced unto others accept ones mind.

It's why it's necessary for us to exist seperated from God in the 1st place. It is why Jesus is necessary. It's also why God need us to go to him of our own free will because anything less than would diminish who we are as individual and ironically this would in turn diminish the love we can feel from God even if the love from God is provided by no bounds equally to all. It is why it is written and we are told that the 1st are last and the last are 1st it's not to say you will be loved any less but will you feel his love the same if you lived a life of always being 1st?

Bruce Springsteen was brought up as a Catholic.

Need to clarify, the intent was never to exist seperated from God! But it is why after what Adam did that it became necessary. It it is why it is then necessary for us to return to God of our own free will.
